Program:

Karen Lee, editor of the AgriView Newspaper, spoke to us on behalf of the Wisconsin Dairy Producers Assn. She told of the importance of the dairy business to our state's economy. We are the #1 producer of cheese in our nation, 26% of the total U.S. cheese produced. California is #2 in cheese production, but is the #1 producer of milk.

Dairy farmers are now receiving about $18.70 per 100 gallons of milk produced, an increase over the price several years ago. Each cow's milk production adds $17,000 per year to our state's economy.

She told us the number of dairy farmers decreases each year, but the number of cows has not been decreasing. What's happening? Bigger dairies with bigger herds which creates another set of problems in handling waste products.

Program:

Karen Lee, editor of the AgriView Newspaper, spoke to us on behalf of the Wisconsin Dairy Producers Assn. She told of the importance of the dairy business to our state's economy. We are the #1 producer of cheese in our nation, 26% of the total U.S. cheese produced. California is #2 in cheese production, but is the #1 producer of milk.

Dairy farmers are now receiving about $18.70 per 100 gallons of milk produced, an increase over the price several years ago. Each cow's milk production adds $17,000 per year to our state's economy.

She told us the number of dairy farmers decreases each year, but the number of cows has not been decreasing. What's happening? Bigger dairies with bigger herds which creates another set of problems in handling waste products.

Program:

Karen Lee, editor of the AgriView Newspaper, spoke to us on behalf of the Wisconsin Dairy Producers Assn. She told of the importance of the dairy business to our state's economy. We are the #1 producer of cheese in our nation, 26% of the total U.S. cheese produced. California is #2 in cheese production, but is the #1 producer of milk.

Dairy farmers are now receiving about $18.70 per 100 gallons of milk produced, an increase over the price several years ago. Each cow's milk production adds $17,000 per year to our state's economy.

She told us the number of dairy farmers decreases each year, but the number of cows has not been decreasing. What's happening? Bigger dairies with bigger herds which creates another set of problems in handling waste products.
